

The lamb and the drum.

This story includes words that end with /m/.

The lamb and the drum.

The lamb woke up early because he was so excited about his birthday.

The lamb went downstairs to have his breakfast. He had some jam on toast and it was very yummy. Then, he had an ice cream because he was still hungry. "Ice cream is my favourite," he thought to himself.

The lamb couldn't wait to open his birthday presents. The first present that he opened was a drum. "A drum!" said the lamb. He had wanted a drum for a very long time.

The lamb started playing his drum straight away. "I love playing this drum!" he thought. All of a sudden, there was a bang on the door. It was some children. "Please stop playing that drum, we are trying to play our game and we can't concentrate because of the noise," they said.

“I don’t want to stop playing it yet. I’ve only just started!” said the lamb. Then, the lamb started playing his drum again. Suddenly, there was another knock on the door. This time, it was a worm. “Please stop playing that drum, I’m trying to wiggle and it’s putting me off!” said the worm.

“I don’t want to stop playing it yet!” said the lamb. Then, the lamb started playing his drum again. Suddenly, there was another knock on the door. This time, it was a football team. “Please stop playing that drum, we are trying to play football and it’s very distracting!” said the team.

“I don’t want to stop playing it yet. I’m really enjoying myself!” said the lamb.

The lamb was fed up of everyone complaining about his drum playing so he decided to go for a walk.

As soon as he started playing his drum on his walk, some farm animals walked past. “What wonderful drum playing!” said the farm animals. “How lovely, thank you. At least some people like my drum playing,” said the lamb.

The lamb played his drum for a while but then his arm was really tired. “I think it’s time for me to go home now,” thought the lamb.

When the lamb got home, he was very hungry so he had an ice cream. “That ice cream was yummy!” he thought to himself.

Then, it was time for the lamb to go to bed. “I can’t wait to play my drum again tomorrow,” he thought and then he fell straight to sleep.

The end.