The bluebird and the blizzard.

The bluebird was looking forward to going out for the day. He got up early because he was so excited about going berry picking.

He had such fun berry picking. He picked lots of blueberries and lots of blackberries.

While the bluebird was berry picking, a big blizzard started.

The blizzard knocked the bluebird over and he cut his leg on the floor. There was some blood but the cut soon stopped bleeding.

It was so windy in the blizzard and there was so much snow that the bluebird couldn't see where he was going. The bluebird flew into a blackbird by accident. "Come with me. I can find us somewhere safe to stay until this blizzard is over," said the blackbird.

Then, the birds accidentally flew into a man and his blind dog. "Don't worry, get in my bag and we can find somewhere safe to stay until the blizzard is over," said the man.

The blind dog led the man, the bluebird and the blackbird to a safe place. They didn't realise that the safe place was inside a rocket. "3, 2, 1 BLAST OFF!" they heard. "No wait, we aren't supposed to be in here!" shouted the bluebird.

Thankfully, the astronauts heard the bluebird and let the man, the blind dog, the bluebird and the blackbird out of the rocket before it blasted off to space.

Soon the blizzard stopped and the man, the blind dog, the bluebird and the blackbird all went home.

When the bluebird got back to his blue and black house, he went straight to bed. "What an eventful day. I hope tomorrow is calmer!" thought the bluebird and he fell straight to sleep.

The end.
