A day in the nurse's surgery.

This story includes lots of words that start with /n/.

A day in the nurse's surgery.

The nurse woke up and knew that she was going to have a busy day. There would be lots of people coming through her door.
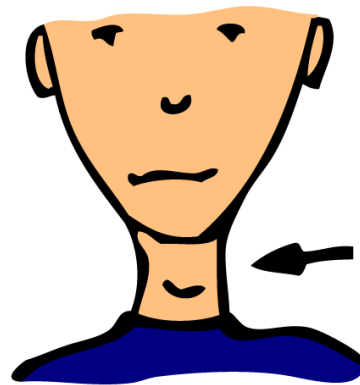

She got into work at nine o'clock and was ready to start work.

First, a boy came in to the surgery and said, "I've hurt my knee." "Oh dear, you need to be more careful," said the nurse.

knee

Next on her list was a man. "I've hurt my neck because I've been looking up too much." "Oh dear, you must be more careful!" said the nurse.

Next on her list was another man. He said, "I've been listening to my music too much and my ears are hurting because of the noise." "Oh dear, you must be more careful!" said the nurse.

The next person was a bird. "I've hurt my wing because I fell into my nest!" "Oh dear Bird, you must be more careful!" said the nurse.

The last person of the day was a lady who said, "My nose hurts because I've been sniffing too much!" "Oh dear, you must be more careful!" said the nurse.

At the end of the day, the nurse sat down at her desk and wrote her notes. "What a busy day!" thought the nurse.

By the time the nurse got home, it was night time. "I hope people are more careful in future!" the nurse thought to herself. Then, she fell to sleep.

The end.